Volunteering Models

Volunteering Models

Weekday Volunteering

Give a few hours for 2-3 days during the week. This is most suitable for people who work on their own schedules, homemakers and retirees.

Short Term Intern

Volunteer every day for one month or more during the semester breaks. College students who wish to learn more about the social sector can benefit from this model. We will provide certificates after the intern completes the project.

Weekend Volunteering

Spare a few hours on weekends. This is ideal for professionals and college students.

Long Term Intern

Volunteer every day for 6 months after graduation to gain deeper understanding of the social sector and contribute significantly. This is suitable for those looking for a perspective altering experience and an arena to do meaningful work. We will reimburse all reasonable expenditures incurred during this time.

Virtual Volunteering

People with special skills like creative writing, movie making, website creation, graphics design, etc. can help us with backend tasks.

Volunteer Professional Services

One can offer professional skills to serve community's needs. Doctors, auditors, lawyers writers or any other professional can offer their professional services.

Donate

We The Leaders Foundation has been actively involved in its commitment to work towards its motto "Lead The Change".

The journey towards the path of bringing a change and realising the dream initiated on 6th January 2019 - Foundation Day, our volunteers have been highly successful in executing various projects and events that aim to bring us closer to building a better society for tomorrow.

We look to make a positive impact by churning out and moulding the raw untapped potential of many youngsters in the country hailing from rural parts of India. We highly look forward to build and expand our mission to a much broader set of the population and create the Change we all intend to see.

Every goal comes at its own costs and We The Leaders Foundation has been actively involved in trying to effectively make use of its resources and manage all its needs for a sustained service till now but as we look to expand and make a positive change, we would highly feel gratified and appreciate your support in making us realise our dreams.

We appeal to you to make your generous contributions which will be used in highly meaningful ways to empower and train the society and create leaders who will lead by example and train others in the process of ensuring a collective growth as a community!

Thank you
